

Smart
Moms-To-Be Stay Alcohol-Free.

Prevent Fetal Alcohol
Spectrum Disorders

You Can Make a Difference!

Health care professionals can help prevent FASD by:

You can support your patients when calling the OASAS Helpline.

Referring women to call the OASAS Helpline at 1-877-8 HOPE NY. This toll-free service provides crisis and motivational counseling for callers in need, as well as follow-up calls 48 hours later for those who wish to be contacted.

By providing a safe and private appointment for women to make this first step, you can make a difference.

Addiction treatment programs licensed and funded by the NYS OASAS are required under law to accept pregnant women, or refer then to a treatment program that will be able to admit them. Programs that accept children with their mothers exist in many – not all – communities across the State. These programs will also accept patients on Medicaid.

You could contact one of the OASAS Field Offices across the state to find out about OASAS-certified programs that offer gender-specific services tailored to the needs of women. Many programs also provide services to children.

Bronx Field Office

Phone: (646) 728-4544

Brooklyn Field Office

Phone: (646) 728-4549

Upper Manhattan Field Office

Phone: (646) 728-4566

Lower Manhattan Field Office

Phone: (646) 728-4561

Queens/Staten Island Field Office

Phone: (646) 728-4592

Long Island Field Office

Phone: (631) 434-7263

Central Field Office

Phone: (315) 428-4113

Finger Lakes Field Office

Phone: (585) 454-4320

Mid-Hudson Field Office

Phone: (518) 485-1484

Northeastern Field Office

Phone: (518) 485-1660

Western New York Field Office

Phone: (716) 847-3037